

WELCOME TO ANOTHER YEAR OF SCOUTING!

Den & Pack Leader Resources

As you gear up for another great season of Cub Scouting, here are some of the basic documents you'll need to run your Cub Scout dens. We've scanned all of our Cub Scouting resources looking for the most pertinent items, then added some notes of our own. You can quickly see what these documents contain without having to open each one.

Highly Recommended:

Welcome, New Den Leader, No. 510-231 A very basic primer for the brand-new leader, it contains an exhaustive list of literature and other resources. (6 pages)

Cub Scout Outdoor Program Guidelines, No. 510-631 This booklet gives a comprehensive view of outdoor Cub Scouting and directs the reader to more resources. You'll find that it is an essential part of program planning meetings. (8 pages)

This Is Scouting, No. 511-003 A page promoting the new training video that replaces New Leader Essentials. This is a good handout for use at roundtables and basic training sessions.

So You're a New Pack Committee Member, No. 510-240 Introduction to the role includes a bulleted list of tasks and rewards of volunteering. It's a useful handout for any training activity. Similar treatment is provided in the publications below (4 pages each):

So You're A New Cubmaster, No. 510-237

So You're A New Den Leader, No. 510-239

So You're A New Tiger Cub Den Leader, No. 510-233

So You're A New Webelos Leader, No. 510-247

Cub Scout Pack Newsletter and Calendar Templates A handy set of Microsoft Excel tools to help you communicate with the pack community. These have been pulled together for issues through 2010.

BEST SOURCE FOR ACCURATE INFORMATION!

Roundtable is your best source for accurate information. All leaders are strongly encouraged to attend this meeting every month. Roundtable offers training, unit presentations, discussions and networking. It's also where you can find out the latest council and district news.
